[1] Please note that there is a $10 submission fee, which supports Coffee and Creatives as an independent podcast and blog. As such, we truly understand the barrier submission fees can create, while also valuing the time and effort that goes into creative work and all the behind-the scenes administrative work of supporting artists. In order to break down this barrier while also valuing our own time, this is a sliding fee scale opportunity with a suggested fee of $10 to support the work that we do, but with the opportunity to apply for as low as $8 if you are unable to pay the suggested fee.
